Conversation

Lena and Josh discuss British fashion. They talk about mixing old and new styles, the influence of weather, and personal expression in clothing choices.

Lena: Hey Josh, I've noticed British fashion has a really unique style. Would you say there's a typical "British look"?

Josh: That's a good question. I think it _____ where you are. In London, you see a mix of classic and _____ styles—people love to _____.

Lena: Yeah, I've seen that. Some outfits are really bold, but others are very traditional.

Josh: Exactly. British fashion often blends the old and the new. You might see someone wearing a _____ coat with modern _____.

Lena: I like that mix. It feels creative, but also practical.

Josh: That's true. Weather plays a role too. People _____ clothes a lot, especially with the rain and sudden temperature changes.

Lena: Makes sense. Do you think British people care a lot about fashion?

Josh: Some do, especially younger people in cities. But overall, I'd say it's more about personal style than following trends.

Lena: I like that. It's less about dressing to impress and more about showing who you are.

Josh: Exactly. That's what makes it interesting. You never know what kind of outfit you'll see on the street.
