Story

Hiro is a boy who loves video games. He plays on a console that connects to his TV. His favorite game is a big adventure game with many interesting characters. Hiro plays the game every weekend. He enjoys solving puzzles and completing levels to get a high score.

One day, Hiro invites his friend Ken to play the game with him. They play together and use teamwork to solve the challenges. They help each other and have a lot of fun. They talk in English while they play, so they can practice their language skills.

After playing for a few hours, they finally reach the last level. With their teamwork and effort, they defeat the final boss and win the game. Hiro and Ken are very happy and proud of their achievement. They can't wait to play another adventure game together.
