Article

Apple has announced a new iPhone that can fold in half. It is called the iPhone Duo. When it is closed, it is about the size of a large phone. When it is open, the screen is much bigger, almost like a small tablet.

Apple says the phone has two screens and two batteries. It can be used for up to 24 hours before it needs charging. The phone also has a good camera and a fingerprint sensor. However, there is one big problem: the price. The iPhone Duo will cost $1,999, making it the most expensive iPhone ever. Pre-orders will begin in October.

Quiz

1. What is the new iPhone called?
2. How long can the iPhone Duo be used before it needs charging?
3. What happens when the iPhone Duo is unfolded?
4. When will pre-orders for the iPhone Duo begin?
